 The first book printed in Italy with a date; and the earliest printed in the Monastery of Subiaco. When the work was commenced there was no fount of Greek type, and in consequence spaces are left as far as leaf 19 of the text, where the words Ζευς κρομου appear. Some of the spaces have been filled up in manuscript. The errata are very seldom found. This copy has been wrongly bound, the table and errata are at the end.

 Only two copies are mentioned by Van Praet, printed on vellum, the one above described and the other in the Hunterian Museum. There has been much controversy as to the place of printing and the printer's name, but the probability is that it was printed by Adam of Ammergau at Venice, and neither by Adam Rot nor by Adam of Rotwil as some have supposed. The Greek quotations are printed in a square distinct character.

Fol. 30 in. 601 engraved plates, including the titlepage, each mounted on a separate leaf, and preserved in 6 cases.

 This collection of engravings represents the city of Rome as it existed in the sixteenth century. The plates were executed by Lafreri and other engravers, Lafreri being responsible for 118. This copy is amplified by the addition of later editions of the plates and other representations of the different subjects of architectural, typographical and archaeological interest, thus illustrating and carrying on the original idea of Lafreri. LITURGIES.—LATIN RITE.—BREVIARIES.—I. GENERAL.

The Prae-Tridentine Breviary.

Conf., St. Anthony of Padua, St. Clara, Vig., St. Louis, Bp. and Conf., St. Francis, and the stigmata of St. Francis.

Original wooden boards, covered with leather stamped in a diaper pattern within a border; the two clasps which it had originally have been lost. At the beginning are seven leaves of manuscript of the 15th century. The first page is blank: the second contains the "Salve Regina" written in black ink, with the Indulgence attached to its recital, beneath in red. At the top of the third page is written in a much later hand "Ex Bibliotheca Rssmi Epi (?) Augresani". The third to the fourteenth pages are used for the Calendar which is tolerably written in red and black, a page to each month. A few entries are made by a rather formal hand but the usual writing is a good cursive. There are no notes in the vernacular to show its origin, it is written entirely in Latin. The Breviary itself is adorned with capitals written in red and blue, with rude attempts at ornamentation in some places.

fixing the limits of the Spanish and Portuguese possessions in the known and unknown countries of the New World. Pages 385-418 contain an abridgement of Christian Doctrine in Spanish, with the following translations: in Quichua and Aymara by religious of different orders; in Puquina for the most part by P. Alonzo de Barzana, S.J., called the Apostle of Peru, born at Cordova in 1528, died at Cuzco in 1598 after having spent 29 years in the missions of Tucuman and Paraguay: This is perhaps the only work known of this author: it is also the oldest document remaining of the Puquina language; in the Mochica language, translated by seculars and regulars by order of the Archbishop of Lima; in Guarani, by the P. Luys de Bolaños, of the Franciscan order; and finally in Brazilian, by Benedictines, Franciscans and Jesuits.

Not only is the work exceedingly rare, but it is besides one of the most valuable documents which exist for the study of the South American languages. See Leclerc, Bibl. Americana, 1867, No. 1105.

LOGIE (Andrew) Cum Bono Deo. | A | Remonstrance | To The | Godly Party. | Two maine Quæries, Which stand | much usefull for these our times. | The One is anent that, which made this wofull Diaphragma | or Dissepimentum, this Division twixt King, State And | Church; and this is Episcopacy. | The Other is anent that, which hath so pittifully rent our | Church in her self, & so stands maceries, paries intergerinus, or | intergerivus, The partition-Wall twixt our Protesters, the | Godly Party, (as they are pleased out of a more then a | Pharisaicall pride superciliously to arrogate this title to them- | selves) and the Assemblymen; So that it is turned questio- | nable with not a few with us to day, which of these two con- | trary Factions we should acknowledge for our true Represen- | tative Church, both these acclaiming in jure, this Title to thō- | selves. | And this is, If our Commission of Church did rightly deter- | mine anent the receiving in, into the bosome of their Army | of Nuncupative Malignants, in such a nick of time & exigence | of Affaires, or pronounced therein clave errante. Numero, If | that Engagement stood lawfull with the One, or unlawfull with | the Other: | And | A Vindication of Both, | By Andrew Logie sometime Arch-Deane of Aberdene; |

 First edition. Printed with the same types as were used in the same year by Alopa for the Scholia to Apollonius Rhodius, and probably therefore from his press. The addition of a title-page by Giunta who appears to have had copies of the Lucian in stock and prefixed them to his edition of Philostratus of 1517, has given rise to the belief that Giunta was the printer of the Lucian. But this bears no resemblance to the characters of Giunta, whereas its identity with the types, both large and small, of Alopa has been established by a long and critical examination.
